DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The response filed May 2, 2005 has been entered and considered.

Claims 1-33 are pending and an action on the merits follows.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because Figs 3-9 contain improper shading which obscures the content of the Figures.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action.

Art Unit: 3625

The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 30 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 30 and 31 reference a "method" of claim 15. Claim 15 is directed to a "system". For examination purposes, "method" in claims 30 and 31 have been interpreted as --system--. Applicant must make the appropriate changes.

Art Unit: 3625

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4, 7-27, 30, and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cambridge (US 2001/0037373 A1).

Cambridge discloses electronically initiating a purchase of an item using a computer (par. 0048).

A data storage medium having at least one image of at least one item stored thereon is provided (par. 0047); an image of an item from the storage medium is accessed (par. 0069); the accessed item image is viewed on a display in communication with a local processor (par. 0061); the item for purchase is electronically selected for purchase (par. 0064) causing purchase data on the item to be stored on a writable memory device in communication with the local processor (par. 0065);

Art Unit: 3625

and a first selection and a second selection are permitted.

All purchase data not supplied by a consumer is supplied by the data storage medium (par. 0067).

The first selection causes printing of an order form configured to initiate a purchase when physically delivered to a vendor (par. 0078).

The second selection causes storing of the purchase data on a device accessible by the local processor (par. 0091).

The at least one image comprises a three-dimensional image;
and the user is permitted to selectably rotate the image (par.
0071).

Two sets of images as well as other promotional material is disclosed (par. 0070).

The method is completed without having accessed information related to the item not already contained by the removable data storage medium (par. 0061).

Cambridge further discloses means for establishing communication between the processor and an external network (par. 0068).

Purchase data may be transferred to a vendor (par. 0068).

Art Unit: 3625

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cambridge (US 2001/0037373 A1) in view of Kenney (U.S. Patent No. 6,026,376).

Cambridge does not disclose that the image comprises an electronic switch means.

Kenney, in a similar invention (col. 1, lines 37-54), teaches "clicking" on a product in a virtual environment (col. 10, lines 45-53).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided the image of Cambridge as comprising an electronic switch means in order to automatically add an item represented by the image of Cambridge to a selected product list (Kenney: col. 12, lines 55-63).

Art Unit: 3625

Claims 28, 29, 31, and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cambridge (US 2001/0037373 A1) in view of Bernard et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,918,213).

Cambridge does not disclose a reminder.

Bernard, in a similar invention (Abstract), teaches means for providing a reminder that pending purchase data remains (col. 5, line 61-col, 6, line 10).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided the invention of Cambridge to have included a means for providing a reminder (at processor startup or otherwise) that pending purchase data remains (on the device or elsewhere) in order to have provided added convenience to the shopper in the event that the a transaction has not previously been completed (col. 6, lines 7-10).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 3625

Hamrick (U.S. Patent No. 5,451,998) discloses a home shopping video catalog (col. 1, line 64-col. 2, line 15). An electronic order form may be stored and printed for delivery to a vendor (col. 5, line 35-col. 6, line 13). Products may also be ordered via a direct communications link (col. 6, lines 24-28).

Burke (U.S. Patent No. 5,848,399) discloses a computer system for allowing a consumer to purchase packaged goods at home.
